

You have an 'up and go nature' not good at waiting for anything or anyone. You have a flash in the pan anger, but once you are done - it's a done thing! The fearless you will pursue relationships with a single-minded fervour. You like to be in the forefront. Known for leadership and innovation. The energy of Mars fills you with dynamism and the will to win. You enjoy the challenge of a fight and enjoy victory even more. You are usually brimming over with life and vitality. But it's that very spark inside you that means it's so easy it is for you to be taken the wrong way.

Aries

Royal Astrologers.com

Your feelings are genuine, warm and caring - with a definite fixity. In other words, you don't like change too much - which makes your relationships very stable. With respect to money - you do have a tendency to be very conservative and frugal - waste is an abhorrent thing to you, and even the small things that others discard are seen to be of value by you. Few would deny your need for control. Once you get a fixed idea, you stubbornly adhere to what you believe in - and you always finish what you start.

Taurus

Royal Astrologers.com

Your knowledge and the diversity of that knowledge means that you don't like to be kept on one track and if there is one criticism people are likely to make of you it's that you tend to intellectualise things too much. You have a reputation for being fickle, as well as prone to fits of blackness, but this is the price you pay for your quick wit. You rarely deal with one thing at a time. Your mercurial mind needs to study, read, learn and dissect. Boredom is your sworn enemy, and you refuse to succumb to that - ever. Instead, you get up, change the subject, and move around.

Gemini

Royal Astrologers.com

At times it can be difficult for other people to understand and respond to your communication style. That's because you operate on a whole other level of communication that remains largely unspoken. You have the sense of empathy - the emotional bond that ties people to each other. There is a risk that you can become too attached to people or things. You are a great friend to have around, someone who listens and gives a shoulder to cry on and provides good advice. Fear of insecurity. A secure home base is key to your emotional wellbeing.

Cancer

Royal Astrologers.com

You have a heart of a performer and a soul of a romantic. You need to be the light of your own little universe. Behind the façade of your attention-seeking behaviour beats a heart that is warm and generous. No matter how busy you might be, you seem to have the energy and wherewithal to handle it. It is practically impossible for you to hold a grudge, though you may "roar" in heat of anger. Sharp mental processes, Love facts and figures, Sunny personality, lone worker. Loyal and having a sense of destiny at an early age. You need to feel appreciated and revered for your talents

Leo

Royal Astrologers.com

You have varied and versatile interests, Love for knowledge and willing to try. You like things to be well planned, down to the tiniest details. Undoubtedly, you are good at what you do, being accurate, precise makes you feel happy. If only others can see your gentleness, compassion, and willingness to help and appreciate it? You care so much and want everything to be perfect. When personal disaster strikes you or loved one, your mind goes into overdrive. You are burying yourself in details so that you can avoid the ramifications of your situation. You are analytical, organized, particular and helpful.

Virgo

Royal Astrologers.com

Charm, elegance, and graciousness is your embodiment of those wonderful qualities. Once you know what's needed, you're try to deliver, in a most accommodating way. Vain, deeply romantic, and very cherishing of own idealistic dream. You do not like to rock the boat in any circumstances. Constantly seeking for balance, you can procrastinate, dithering, compromising or appeasing. No one handle chore better than you with your poise and diplomacy is legend. You know instinctively how to avoid conflict, most likely because you grew up with it around.

Libra

Royal Astrologers.com

You need most to be intimate with someone you trust. You are a natural-born fire-walker who's ready to do that and more to prove your feelings. The intensity of your feelings, in fact, is what makes you know you're alive. Remind yourself that you're not a quitter, use your anger to propel yourself to recovery. You are a highly sensitive, intuitive, perceptive person - and can sum up at a glance. Pretty much seduced by sexual mystique, good looking, tempting alluring invites. You have these qualities of being incisive, secretive, sexual, healing and transformational.

Scorpio

Royal Astrologers.com

You hate to show negative emotions to anyone. You have the ability to humour an ailing or injured person out of depression. You are always on some quest - the truth, the ultimate adventure, the holy grail. You're an eternal student, eager to learn more and you insist on having your space and freedom. Different language, cultures, religions and philosophies fascinate you. Perhaps your greatest fear is a life of mediocrity. Can and do sometimes exaggerate the truth, but who can fault you for your utopian ideals? You believe in the power of positive, optimistic thinking.

Sagittarius

Royal Astrologers.com

Making a good and appropriate impression is high on your agenda. Only when you have achieved your goal will you allow the less serious and fun side to shine through. Tenacity and discipline are your admirable qualities, but obsessive materialism is not endearing. Organized, practical, and business-like, bring out the dutiful, cautious, and pessimistic side. You may sound too business-like every now and then. You don't want to bother others, but please do let them do something for you. You work real hard to raise your level of living to prove your success.

Capricorn

Royal Astrologers.com

You are inventive, original, unconventional, maybe even a little weird but futuristic. You make choices based on the long run, not the emotions of the present. View life more from the humanitarian point of view, seeing the larger picture. Can sometimes be quite cool, unemotional and detached as far as others are concerned. Display an amazingly rapid grasp of things and working in an intuitive way. Has such instinctive knowledge unknown to others, that seems to come from the unknown. You have a head for making money in unusual ways and giving validation to hunches.

Aquarius

Royal Astrologers.com

Loyalty is one of your best character traits, but blind devotion can be your drawback. You are equally capable of displaying a charming and whimsical personality. Extremely susceptible to what's going on in the immediate environments. You care so very much that you need to retreat at times - it's emotional self-defence. Meeting Mysterious characters you can't understand but nevertheless empathizes with. You believe that there is, or should be, an element of sacrifice in any love relationship. Creativity is a force you absorb its energy, then manifest it in creations of your own.

Pisces

Royal Astrologers.com